RE: July Funding Round Preparation

Because no changes have been made to the 2003 Qualified Allocation Plan, there will not be an Application Completion Workshop prior to the July 15, 2004 funding round.

A session on Special Needs Housing will be held at the 2004 Michigan Affordable Housing Conference. The conference runs from May 17-19, 2004. For additional information on this session, please see the attached announcement.

Michigan Conference on Affordable Housing

May 17-19, 2004

Special Needs Sessions

Want to provide special needs housing but unsure of what it entails?

Consider attending the 2004 Michigan Conference on Affordable Housing, May 17 – 19, at the Lansing center. On Tuesday, May 18, a full afternoon session will be devoted to planning and operating special needs housing using tax credits.

Since there will be no tax credit or special needs workshop prior to the July 15, 2004 tax credit funding round, this conference will provide answers to your questions about the July 15th Special Needs Housing, Addendum III, submission.

The panel will include developers and service providers who have planned and operated tax credit properties that have been awarded bonus points for special needs using Addendum III.

Be there if you want to gain an edge over your competitors!

Invite your service partner to attend this session with you to get the full benefit of the material presented.

Hope to see you there!
